

WAI KRU ONCE AGAIN AT STIC

By: Amanda Crisp, Airline Business, Year 3

During the Wai Kru ceremony is usually held on a Thursday in the month of June every year. While schools, colleges, and universities may have their respective timing of events, in terms of how the ceremony is organized and conducted, there's not much difference; the same etiquettes and prayers are followed.

College, college administrators and lecturers were sincerely respected by our freshmen students. The ceremony included the sharing of inspiring words, the blessing of books, singing songs, and expressing words of respect, appreciation, and hope.

It was indeed a moment to be cherished.

RECTOR'S BIRTHDAY WITHOUT THE PRESENCE OF MADAM

On July 18, the STIC family gathered for a birthday luncheon feast in honor of Dr. Piyada Wattanasan. The celebration resonated with warm birthday greetings and well-wishes for our birthday girl. Every faculty and department contributed special gifts to the Rector.

During her birthday speech, Rector Dr. Piyada Wattanasan fondly reminisced about past birthday feasts, where her beloved mother, Madam Dr. Theresa Virachanee Phromsunthorn, would typically select and prepare her birthday outfits. However, this year, on her birthday, as Madam Dr. Theresa Virachanee Phromsunthorn peacefully joined our Creator, Ajarn Vipha, the Faculty of Nursing Science Dean, assumed the role of Rector's mother in choosing and preparing her birthday outfit. This heartfelt gesture deeply touched the Rector, who expressed sincere appreciation and gratitude.

Rector Dr. Piyada Wattanasan also highlighted Dr. Ubon's (Dean of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences) commitment to the late Madam Dr. Theresa Virachanee Phromsunthorn's vision. Dr. Ubon's promise to assist the college in achieving success was reaffirmed to our Rector.

While the absence of Madam Dr. Theresa Virachanee Phromsunthorn may have altered the birthday feast atmosphere this year, the entire STIC family embraced the joy of being together and sharing a meal.

Happy Birthday, Rector Dr. Piyada Wattanasan! We wish you more blessings and healthier years ahead.

ALICE'S ACADEMIC SUCCESS AT UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH WALES, UK

By: Phattaraporn Thaninrawat, Alumna, Top-up Degree Program

STICians, I couldn't be more grateful because I have just graduated from the University of South Wales, achieving a First Honour award! I am Phattaraporn "Alice" Thaninrawat. I was a student at St. Theresa International College for 3 years, studying English for Business Communication, known as BE, before I moved and transferred to the University of South Wales in September 2022 for my top-up degree or my 4th and last year in a university. I finished all my courses in March and all my presentations in May. I attended my graduation ceremony in July 2023. To be the one to tell you the story, I really appreciate this opportunity.

I started studying in October 2022. My degree had 2 terms to begin with, winter and spring, basically from October to March. I only had 6-7 modules each term and around 2 assignments for each module, which were perfectly fine for me. The classes lasted around 1 to 3 hours, and I would only have either one or three classes a day, which is not tiring considering all the lecturers' ways of teaching. They were all fun, no stress, nor pressures at all during the two terms I had.

The lecturers were so caring and friendly. Adding to it, each of them had the perfect and unique way to teach the students. I remember having the most fun in my life studying with all these wonderful lecturers, just like what I had at STIC! Speaking of the lectures, they are more on involving students in their teaching and encouraging students to take part in the class, which is wonderful. In such ways, students would be more interested in what they will learn from the lessons. It was like this, we would have 1 hour of lecture and 3 hours of a workshop, where the students get to share their opinions and put their heads together. The assignments were tough but, to be honest, they were not that tough when you pay attention to the class activity or review your lectures. So, be sure to review your lectures and pay great attention to the class, okay?

Now, let's talk about the graduation. The graduation here is a bit different than what we have in Thailand. Although I've never attended any graduation ceremony in Thailand, I've heard and seen more than enough. What we have here is more on the comfort side and focuses on making students feel at home. They would call out your name, and then you walk on the stage, acting a little cute or crazy; it's all up to you! Then, you bow and beautifully walk down the stage. When you get out of the hall, all the lecturers line up and clap for you as you walk out, congratulating you for finishing your degree and wishing you the best. During this moment, you can talk, thank, or even play with them a little bit. But I know all things we have in Thailand are because of the tradition that we have, and it's absolutely beautiful and respectful.

Overall, it was one of the best opportunities I've got my hands on. That is why, this year, I'm going back to the University of South Wales to pursue my Post-graduate or master's degree. I hope you guys focus on learning and all the activities that the college provides! Let's capture all these memories together! I wish you all the best both in your studies and your life! May all the happiness and luck be with you. God bless you all.
