

MY STUDENT-ASSISTANT EXPERIENCE

I am grateful that I got this job. I met new students and even found a special lady who became my girlfriend. It was really fun when we did activities together. I am happy that I could help them a lot, and they could learn without any problem at all. Being a student assistant was not easy. I needed to have good English skills to help students in terms of translation (English to Thai), assist them in understanding what the teacher said, and follow some classroom activities' instructions .
(Pubet Bunprakhen, Education Mathematics, Year 1)

It's a pleasure to be in this job. It taught me a lot of things, especially leadership skills and being responsible. I am glad that I was a part of my students' English language improvement. It's also a great way to make some friends. Even though I didn't know anybody from the student-assistants group (except for Yada), now we consider ourselves as brothers.
(Watcharachai Sansuk, Tourism and Hotel, Year 3)

I am very honored to be a part of the Student Assistant group this year. I did not only help the new students with their subjects, but I also learned something new from them. No words can explain the way I'm feeling right now. I feel that I am on top of the world! Seeing their improvement in English made me feel so proud of them. Lastly, I want to express my gratitude to the college for giving me the chance to work here as a student assistant. Thanks for the good experiences that I will never get in this lifetime.

MY STUDENT-ASSISTANT EXPERIENCE

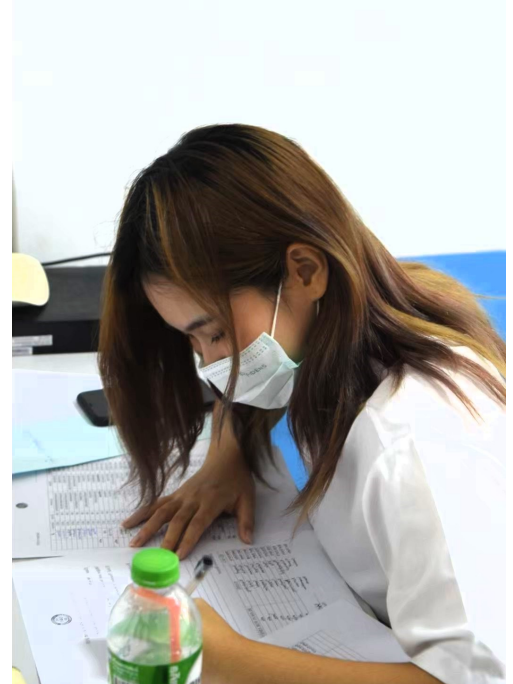

I am glad to be doing the Student Assistant job. This work has taught me many things. I am happy when I see the students improve their English skills. Here, I met new students and did activities together. I built new relationships with our new students and with my co-SAs. Finally, I would like to thank all the teachers and students who have been with me for 2-3 months. Thanks for the good and new experiences. (Salayut Khong-iat, Community Health, Year 1)

Being a student assistant let me showcase my talents. It's my pleasure to help our freshmen in doing translation for them and participating in many activities that the college prepared for the IEP learners. There were moments that I struggled doing the translation, but I did my best to be of help, which made me improve some of my skills as needed in doing this job. Sometimes, explaining some lessons or topics was tough yet challenging. But when I heard that students said "I got it," I felt proud of myself. I improved myself in many ways, so I want to say thank you to STIC for this chance. (Yadapach Saardiem, English for Business Communication, Year 3)

This work, being a student assistant, taught me many things. It's not easy to be someone who's tasked to help others understand English, even though he/she can communicate with a native speaker, possessing his little English skills and knowledge. I learned that if you try and stop being shy or scared to speak English, you will get good at English faster, and that's true. I could do well in this job, I think. This work also makes me build relationships with seniors that I haven't known before, which taught me how to work effectively with others. In addition, I was able to connect and interact with students in my section and in other sections as well. I was so happy to know them and was grateful to help them in many ways. Finally, I have to thank all the teachers who helped and took care of me during the summer semester. Thank you. (Vissarut Udomdet, Airline Business, Year 1)

To have served as a student assistant taught me many things, especially in working with people as a team. The environment of the workplace made me get real experience wherein some situations required attention and solutions, and that fortunately faced and resolved. The intensive students taught me a lot about knowing people and understanding them. For sure, this experience will make me grow in many ways. (Nontakorn Phongoen, International Business, Year 3)

IEP MODEL STUDENTS 2023

My name is Phantee Thanasrirunkull, and my friends call me Guitar. I was born on November 27, 2004. I completed my high school education at Sarakhampitthayakhom School, and I grew up in Mahasarakham. In my free time, I usually exercise, go cycling, cook, read books that catch my interest, listen to music, and play sports. Regarding my family, I have a mom, dad, three sisters, and three cats. Some of my skills include cooking, speaking a little bit of English, playing basketball and football, riding a bike and motorcycle. I believe that some people like me because I am a positive person. I greet people with a smile and offer help to them. Additionally, I believe in sacrificing my own interests for the greater good, not just for a few individuals. I dislike making people feel bad even if we don't connect much.

My greatest dream is to become a pilot. I plan to take the admission examination for professional pilot studies after graduating from St. Theresa International College and aspire to be a licensed pilot in the future.

My name is Siriyakorn Dankamjad, and everyone calls me Siri. I think my nickname sounds good. In my free time, I usually search for things I like to study on the Internet or just relax by listening to Tedtalk or learning about crime cases. Another thing I enjoy is watching movies and reading comics to improve my English. I watch them all in English to practice my language skills and engage in my favorite activities simultaneously. I always give my 100% to any of my duties. I am very responsible with the work assigned to me, and I always do my best. I tend to make a to-do list before doing something because I'm quite forgetful.
